TELEGRAPHIC!

The "Times" View of the Situation.

New York, Dec. 20.—The Times says the Constitution declares in language of indisputable distinctness that the President of the Senate shall open all the certificates of Electors for President and Vice President of the United States. It is not an act which he may, but a duty which he must perform, unaided by clerks, tellers, Senators or Representatives in Congress. When he is directed by the Constitution to open all the certificates, it is necessary for him to decide first what are the genuine certificates to be opened; second—a point settled not by the words of the Constitution, but by practice and precedent from which there may not be a single departure since the origin of the Government—is that the presiding officer of the Senate shall announce officially the full counting, and formally make known to Congress and the country who are elected.

A Sensible Plan to Meet the Question.
New York, Dec. 20.—A Tribune's Washington special says there is a growing opinion among men of both parties that a way out of the difficult situation can still be opened by referring it to the Supreme Court for decision. Thus far the whole dispute can be narrowed down to the question whether the House of Representatives has a right of its own motion and without the concurrence of the Senate to throw out the returns of any State. This is purely a constitutional question, and like all questions arising out of different interpretations of that instrument, it ought to be referred to the Supreme Court. The great difficulty, though, is to get the matter before the court. Democrats and Republicans both are favorable to the plan.

President Grant on the Indian Question.
Washington, Dec. 20.—The President, in conversation to-day, said that the progress of the population and occupation of the Territories is so rapid that it is necessary to adopt a different policy, so far as the geographical location of Indian tribes is concerned. He thought that the useful occupation of the public domain for the purposes of agriculture was more important than they should be kept as hunting grounds for savages. He said it is better for the Indians, and certainly more economical for the Government to gather all the Indian nations and tribes as rapidly as possible within the limits of designated territory, where they may be protected from encroachments by whites, and be more effectually prevented from further wars and devastation upon the settlements.

The Postal Commission's Report.
Washington, Dec. 20.—The Postal Railway Commission will present to Congress to-morrow a portion of the evidence embraced in their report. It is full of valuable information and on the subject of fast mail service it will show that the voice of the people is overwhelmingly in favor of its re-establishment. The Commission expected that the country immediately along the two routes, viz: New York and Chicago and New York and St. Louis, would clamor for a revival of the service, but they found the remote cities and towns like Austin and Denison in Texas, Colorado City and Denver in Colorado, and San Francisco and Los Angeles, exhibited as much zeal in its behalf as the business men at the termini of the routes. Many important—probable recommendations in the report—are under consideration, but have not been formally acted upon.

THE PEACE POLICY.

President Grant still expresses himself as favoring the continuance of the present Indian policy. In an interview with the Treaty Commission on Tuesday the President said: It is sometimes difficult to know the real facts of the condition of Indian tribes, by reason of conflicting reports from agents, border men and military officers, and in that way injustice might be done, but I always try to deal justly with the Indians. I believe that the favorable results of the peace policy justify the belief that it will be continued. I have always endeavored to so firmly establish this policy during my term of office that my successor may not think it proper to change it.

THE COMSTOCK.—The Gold Hill News of last evening has the following of interest concerning the Comstock:

The stock market at the present time shows no new features of exciting interest, as far as prices are concerned. It seesaws up and down from day to day, giving even the brokers and "quick turn" dealers very small margins for profits. Prospective, short crops in California, owing to the long deferred storms of Winter, may have something to do with the depression, and it is alleged that a corner in silver is being gotten up which also has its effect in keeping down the price of stocks. Whether it is so or not, abler financial heads than ours may perhaps decide. The outlook for a good stock market for Christmas, which may allow of anxious stockholders indulging in "roast goose stuffed with sage and hyacinths" on that interesting occasion are not first-rate. It is the season of bad reports and dissatisfied stockholders, yet there are favorable points in the situation nevertheless. The Knickerbocker malcontents have wisely concluded to drop their opposition and the chances are that the practical development of that mine will be proceeded with shortly. Justice stock most unjustly has to suffer from the general depression, but the mine is giving a very satisfactory showing in both ore resources and bullion yield. The most interesting item in the mining management line is given in the San Francisco dispatches to day. It is to the effect that John Mackay has really withdrawn from the famous bonanza firm or purposes doing so, and will unite with the Bank of California people, carrying the control of the Consolidated Virginia mine with him. We publish the story for what it is worth.

UNCLE SAM APOLOGIZES.—Minister Washburn has presented President Grant's apologies to the Duke Decezes, Minister of Foreign Affairs, for the arrest at Philadelphia of Captain Anfray Nauvel, an attaché of the French Legation at Washington and a delegate of the French Commissioners to the Centennial Exhibition, at the instance of one of the Exhibition policemen.

BETS OFF.—Messrs. Oradoff & Magee of the Delta Saloon, Virginia City, propose to follow the example set by the principal pool-sellers throughout the United States and allow those who bought pools on the presidential election to withdraw the same, by calling at their pool-rooms at the Delta saloon.

TILDEN'S COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.—Information from New York asserts that the rebel General Marmaduke of Missouri is now there consulting with Tilden and has been given the leadership of the Tilden legions in the West, with headquarters in St. Louis, that city being the basis of operations.

BUSINESS LAWS.—Ignorance of the law excuses no one. It is a fraud to conceal a fraud. The law compels no one to do impossibilities. An agreement without consideration is void. Signatures made with lead pencil are good in law. A receipt for money is not legally conclusive. The act of one party bind all the others. Contracts made on Sunday cannot be enforced. A contract made with a minor is voidable. A contract with a lunatic is void. A contract made for advertisements in a Sunday newspaper is invalid. Agents are responsible to their principals for their errors. A minor cannot make a legal obligation. Notes bear interest only when so stated. It is not legally necessary to say on a note, "For value received." A note drawn on Sunday is void. If a note be lost or stolen, it does not release the maker. He must pay it.

REFORM SCHOOL.

The Grand Jury of Storey county recommend the establishment of a reform school. They say:

The attention of the jury has been called to the increasing vice and crime in the conduct of many children in this county. The magistrates in the several townships are frequently informed of crime of the vilest character having been committed by children so young in years that they are often in doubt as to the wisest course to pursue. To allow such children to continue in a course of crime would surely prove destruction to them and dangerous to society. To commit them to our common prison, it is feared, would in many cases prove equally as injurious. Most of the States of this Union have wisely instituted Reform Schools or Houses of Correction for all vicious and unmanageable children, and this grand jury do hereby most respectfully recommend to our representatives in the Legislature that they use their influence toward establishing a House of Correction in this State.

PENSIONS.—The most interesting part of the report of the Commissioner of Pensions—most interesting to those immediately concerned—can be condensed into a very brief space. The whole number of army pensioners on the rolls, June 30, 1876, was 209,357, of whom 108,390 were invalids. The whole number of navy pensioners was 3,387, of whom 1,643 were invalids. The total amount of pensions paid during the last fiscal year, was $28,351,509 69.

THE STATE PRISON.

(From the Winnemucca Silver State.)
A suit is now pending in the United States District Court for the District of Nevada, which involves the title to the State Prison at Carson. It was bought by Treadway and others, who claim to be the legal owners of the land on which it is situated, to eject the State from the premises. The matter has been before every session of the Legislature for the last six years, in the shape of a bill to purchase the property of those who claim the title. The premises were originally purchased of A. Curry by the Territory of Nevada at a cost, we believe, of $75,000. Since then thousands of dollars have been expended by the State in enlarging the Prison. To prevent imposition in the event of a decision adverse to the State the Legislature four years ago passed a bill and made an appropriation for the building of a new Prison at Reno, where, it was asserted, convict labor, with the assistance of water power, could be made more remunerative than at Carson. Work was commenced on the new Prison, and the amount appropriated expended in laying the foundation and building the walls. Carson, not caring to lose the Prison, has always looked with disfavor on the Reno structure. The persistent litigation for the ownership of the present Prison gives Reno a decided advantage in the contest. The Carson Appeal, whose editor is a member elect of the next Legislature, and will, in all probability, be elected Speaker of the Assembly, hoped that the case would be definitely disposed of in the Courts by a verdict for the State, before the Legislature assembled. This hope has been dissipated by the recent trial in the United States Court, in which the jury failed to agree. Unless the case is again tried and the trial results in favor of the State, it is probable that the incoming Legislature will make an appropriation for completing the new Prison at Reno.

CHURCHILL COUNTY.

(From the Winnemucca Silver State.)
A bill to Polandize Churchill county by dividing and apportioning it to Lander and Lyon counties passed the Legislature toward the close of its last session. The object of the measure was purely partisan. The Sharonites colonized the county but failed in their purpose to carry it for the "Citizen of San Francisco" and candidate for Senator from Nevada. Actuated by revenge at the failure of their scheme they decided to dismember the county, and a bill for that purpose passed both Houses of the Legislature. It was vetoed by the Governor at the close of the session, and will be brought before the Legislature this Winter for final action. The Assembly being Republican by a large majority, may pass the bill over the Governor's veto, but as the Senate is a tie, there is no probability of its passing that body. Churchill county, is almost out of debt. It has "one of the best schools in the State, and taxation is much lighter there than in Storey county. There is no just reason for partitioning the territory among other counties and as the bill for that purpose is essentially partisan every Democrat in the Legislature should place his name on the record against it.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The rumor is that John Mackay has decided to withdraw from the Bonanza firm and will form an alliance with the Bank of California crowd.

Grant thinks it best to have all the Indians kept in a territory by themselves.

The House has decided to demand the telegraphic dispatches.

The Democrats elected the Mayor of Tallahassee yesterday. This is the first time they have carried the city since the war.

M. C. Butler is the Democratic Senator from South Carolina.

The name of Pembina Territory is to be changed to Huron.

A special says the Democrats have abandoned Oregon, South Carolina and Florida, and now base their hopes entirely upon Louisiana.

Charles Brent, the Louisville forger, has been delivered to an English detective, designated by our Minister, and will be brought back here.

OUR REPRESENTATION.

The revised list of Senate Committees shows the following to be the assignment of positions to the various Senators from the Pacific: Mr. Sargent is again placed on the Appropriation Committee and the Committee on Naval Affairs, and retains his position as Chairman of the Committee on Mines and Mining. Mr. Booth is transferred from the Committee on Pensions to the Committee on Patents, (a more desirable place,) and remains on the Public Lands Committee and the Committee on Manufactures. Mr. Mitchell is retained on the Committee of Privileges and Elections and the Committee on Railroads and on Claims, and is promoted to the Chairmanship of the Committee on Transportation routes to the Seaboard, vice Windom, who was left at the head of the Appropriations Committee by the resignation of Senator (now Secretary) Morrill. Mr. Kelly is re-assigned to the position he held last session, as a member of the Committee on Public Lands, Railroads and Enrolled Bills. Mr. Jones of Nevada remains on the Finance Committee and the Committee on Postoffices and Postroads, and is also again Chairman of the Committee on Contingent Expenses. Mr. Sharon is reassigned to the Committee on Territories and the Mines and Mining Committee. Senators Jones and Sargent, of course, still continue to be members respectively of the Silver Commission and the Joint Select Committee on Chinese Immigration.

A NEW ELECTION.

We are inclined to favor the last plan broached by Congress to settle the Presidential muddle. It is that Congress shall not count the electoral vote at all, but shall declare by joint resolution that there has been no lawful election, and after the law of 1792 so as to provide for holding a new election in May next. We believe such a plan would give better satisfaction to the people than any named. And in our opinion it is the best possible manner to satisfactorily solve the problem. The people would then decide one way or the other by such a large majority that there would be no chance for dissatisfaction. As the case now stands either party goes in under a cloud.

GENERAL CROOK, in his annual report, says that the miners in the Black Hills did not violate the Sioux treaty until the Indians had ceased to regard it. He also calls attention to the fact that his command (less than 1,000 in number) fought and defeated Sitting Bull's band on the Rosebud a week before the Custer disaster. He thinks the Government has treated the Sioux with unparalleled liberality, which they have repaid by raids along the border of the reservation.

TUESDAY MORNING the rite of circumcision was performed on a young engineer in Virginia City, who has embraced the Jewish faith in order to wed the object of his affections.

THE AMORPHOUS PROBLEM.

The San Francisco Bulletin of Tuesday evening has an editorial which seems to us to state the Presidential case with remarkable accuracy, and we transfer it to our columns, claiming it to be one of the most sensible articles written upon the question. The Bulletin says: "One of the two candidates for the Presidency has been legally and honestly elected. After throwing out all the dishonest votes, all which were in any way tainted by fraud, there is no probability that in about eight million votes both candidates should have received an equal number, or that there could be any such thing as a tie in the electoral vote. Nine-tenths of all the voters want an honest count. They abhor all devices which come short of this result. The professional politicians on both sides would to a large extent be satisfied with something else. They would be better pleased by some sort of sharp practice which would count in their candidate and count the opposition candidate out. The trouble just now is that the machine politicians rule. They have not only brought about the present difficulties, but they are engaged in aggravating them. The political instincts and aspirations of the mass of the people are right. They want no other than an honest administration—one fairly elected. But they are compelled to read the falsehoods concocted daily by machine politicians on both sides. There are 80,000 office-holders who want to perpetuate their offices. There are 200,000 men in the opposition party who want and expect office. Then there is a small guerrilla force on both sides who work with the ins and outs, and who expect in some way to be compensated for their trouble.

The time for declaring the Electoral vote by Congress is drawing nigh. A hundred suggestions of sharp practice have already been made, not one of which is accepted by the mass of voters. What they want is the installation in office of the men who have been honestly elected. They want no Mexican revolutions, no attempts to determine by force who has the best right to stand at the head of the next administration. Have any of the States failed to make choice of Electors? The certificates of an election have been made out in every State in the Union. These certificates show that 181 votes have been cast for Tilden, and 185 votes have been cast for Hayes. If the elections are void in any or in several States, then we have this plain provision furnished by the Act of Congress of 1792:

Whenever any State has held an election for the purpose of choosing Electors, and has failed to make a choice on the day prescribed by law, the Electors may be appointed on a subsequent day in such a manner as the Legislature of such a State may direct.

It is quite within the power of Congress to declare the elections void in any number of States—that is on the theory that Congress is really the judge in such cases. There never has been an instance where such a power has been exercised. Moreover, it would be necessary to gain the assent of the States to the order for new elections. Suppose Congress should declare that the returns in three or four States were so tainted by fraud that it was impossible to decide which set of Electors were fairly chosen, and for that reason should refuse to count the vote or to make any formal declaration that either candidate had been elected. Great as such a calamity might be, it would be far better than to have such a technical sanction of fraud as would carry either candidate into office. Moreover, the judgment of the people would be sure to reverse any decision not founded on justice and right. If the election for President should be held over again next year, the very necessity which brought about such a result would also convey a rebuke to fraudulent voting which would have a salutary effect for the next hundred years.

The official report of gross earnings of the Central Pacific Railroad Company for November and for the first eleven months of the year is as follows:

	November.	Eleven Months.
1876.	$1,381,000	$12,352,500
1875.	1,300,000	12,000,000
